

OCTOBER

workbook 2022

Ok loves, not going to lie, October is a HUGE month so I hope you took my advice and rested and restored in September to truly make the most of what is set to be a huge October!

The notes won't be as long this month as I want to share ALL the things in the teaching video!

Ultimately this month I would actually love us to be SUPER present with the astrology that's unfolding, as we have some potent energies to work with!

From Venus connecting with the Sun ALL month to a fiery rebirth of a Full Moon in Aries. Plus that Full Moon kicks off Eclipse season with a very haDES shadow Solar Eclipse later in the month in Scorpio!

There's lots of strong underlying threads to this month, some that are tense, unnerving (Saturn square Uranus) and others that may have us feeling foggy or confused (Mars square Neptune)!

Of course we start in Libra season, so check out what house Libra rules for you as to what alchemy and illumination is going to unfold.

Remember, the solar alchemy in which this EE is built on is more powerful than you can know, so simply JUST following the Sun's journey can have a huge impact in your life. This is about embodying YOUR chart, your solar season each month and noticing what unfolds for you!

Are you making use of each solar season?

Can you see the correlation between the house each month that the Sun is lighting up for you? Are you working with the energies?

Are you paying attention?

Awareness is KEY, as you know because I'm always banging on about it! Ha!

Libra season is always going to bring up themes around relationships, our sense of balance and harmony within them.

Are your needs being met? Are you too independent (like can't ask for help) or too codependent in your relationship?

With Venus ALSO in her domicile, in Libra, moving with the Sun this month know that all things Venus will be EXTRA! I actually really want you to enjoy this dance of our light, The Sun and our benefic, Venus, draw on them if times get tough. Nurture your heart. Ask, "what would the highest expression of myself do, think, say or be right now" in any given situation.

Venus in Libra is the celestial goddess, where we think more about relationships and love, remember Venus is an air sign! She will make her cazimi, meaning exact conjunction with the Sun, at 29 degrees of Libra on the 23rd! Pay attention on the 23rd as well, as we have the Sun moving into Scorpio, the Venus cazimi, Saturn stationing direct & Venus moving into Scorpio too!! A kapow day!!

Venus actually continues to travel with the Sun but in Scorpio until the end of the month, notice the difference darlings. Notice how she feels in Libra and then Scorpio!

So of course your Libra and Scorpio houses are the ones to keep your eye on in October!

I bloody have so much to share that I could write a novel,haha... so I'm going to reign it in!

I will share the astro dates below and elaborate MUCH more in the teaching video as there are some epic themes I must discuss!

ASTRO MOVEMENTS

2nd - Mercury direct in Virgo

7th/8th - Sun opposite Chiron- watch projecting your wounds onto others

9th - Pluto direct

10th - 10.10 energy/Full Moon in Aries 16 degrees

11th - Mercury moves into Libra

10th/11th - Venus opposite Chiron

23rd - Sun into Scorpio/ Venus cazimi 29 degrees Libra/ Venus into Scorpio/ Saturn direct

25th - Solar eclipse in Scorpio 2 degrees

28th - Jupiter retrograde back into Pisces

30th - Mercury into Scorpio/ Mars retrograde begins 25 degrees Gemini

Plus within all that I have some potent underlying threads that are playing out all month that i will share too!!!!

It's A LOT!!!! Hahahaha

TEACHING THEME

Now, the theme and teaching content for the month is MARS baby!!!!

Of course I would HIGHLY recommend watching the Mars masterclass, that's a must, I discuss lots there that will be super helpful in the weaving of the Mars story, but what I'm going to share in this teaching video is more to do with your Mars and relationship to him! Of course if you are a day chart he is the "bad boy" so more work must be done with him. Aries or Scorpio rising have Mars as their chart ruler, and it's also important for all of us to look at what houses are Mars ruled! I have my 2nd house ruled by Scorpio, remember Mars is the traditional ruler of Scorpio so definitely co-rules this sign with Pluto and Aries rules my 7th house!

Money and relationships are my 2 Mars houses!

What are yours?

How does that feel?

Im going to chat all things anger, boundaries, sex and power baby!

Our Mars sign, house and aspects are so vital in a deeper awareness in how we deal with anger, express it ect and what I'm all about is developing a healthy Mars relationship. I see SO many women with extremely unhealthy relationships to Mars, mostly very unconscious too.

Lots of toxic shares online bashing men/husbands ect, grouping them all together, and yes I get it, women SHOULD be angry, however anger often builds nothing and destroys everything.

Of course it is essential at times, and actually anger is normal, an emotion that us as women should no longer be scared of, hide from or project onto other women, or judge them for either.

I'm learning that sacred rage is a primal release that moves through me like water, it doesn't stagnate when I acknowledge it and being super conscious of it allows me to not project it onto anyone else either! I had parents who took their anger out on me, all the time- so I have vowed to not do that to my girls or others.

This topic is a HUGE one and I'm really wanting us to go deep in unpacking our own Mars energy this month, the power of him, the destruction of him.

Let's invite Mars to the table and chat!

The perfect month to do it as Masr stations retrograde this month!!

This long 7 month Mars in Gemini retrograde is teaching us SO much so now lets go micro and dive into our own Mars!

So excited to record the video for you, it's a must watch as most information will be there plus be sure to watch the Mars masterclass for more Mars juice!

Remember to breathe this month ladies, ground and breathe!

Love ya XXX
